

SAKSHI M KAURA
JOINT MANAGING DIRECTOR

Ms. Sakshi M Kaura is the Joint Managing Director of the Omax Group and has been spearheading Business Development and Operations for the Group in Delhi NCR region ever since she joined the company in 2013. She has initiated significant benchmarks in the company and under her leadership, many turn-around projects were initiated.

Sakshi has done BBMS from the Institute of Integrated Learning and Management, New Delhi, and has spearheaded her own interior design company called Sakshi Kaura Designs Pvt. Ltd., before joining Omax.

At Omax, Sakshi has initiated various new trainings and processes such as manufacturing excellence journey to strengthen existing processes, and has also set up new processes in the manufacturing units and enhance skills of workforce. Looking at the business with a holistic view, she believes to have continuous improvement in internal operations, departments and people to keep pace with growing market trends, exploring latest technologies, processes and exposure through various trainings.

Sakshi lays emphasis on nurturing the young talent pool of Omax and believes that effective communication is the key to successful business. She has launched a new internal communication platform at Omax called EVOMAX (Effective Voice of Omax). This platform focusses on effective communication in terms of vision and business goals at all levels. She firmly believes that every business should ensure that all its units present in different regions are aligned towards one common goal and they understand company's vision, values and goals.

Sakshi has been instrumental in devising the CSR strategy of Omax and believes that as a socially responsible business organisation, Omax should connect with society in meaningful ways, and impact its development lastingly.